is a good one, and if the patronage it is receiving is a good indication, our traveling friends also think so. Through a picturesque scenic country the line runs, and the dustless oiled roadbed contributes much to comfortable traveling. Two finely equipped trains are run: The Overland, with through sleeping cars to Chicago, St. Louis, and other points, and the palatial

INTRODUCTORY

The Publishers herewith present the 1908 edition of The Riverside City and County Directory. As a general reference book it will be found to be both convenient and accurate. We have used our utmost endeavors to this end, not only in the gathering of information but in compilation and arrangement. For a number of years we have published the Riverside City Directory. This year, at the request of the Riverside Business Men's Association, this book was changed from a Riverside City to a Riverside City and County Directory. The aid and support of the Association and of its individual members, together with the very substantial advertising patronage received in Corona, Hemet, San Jacinto and other towns throughout the Couny have proved very gratifying to us. We know that it has only been possible because the County's prosperity is too firmly founded to be checked by the general financial stringency. The population of Riverside city was found to be 13,565, showing an increase of 385 since last year.

We wish to thank our patrons for their support and the general public for its courtesy and assistance given our canvassers.

CORONA CITY DIRECTORY

Corona lies about fifty miles east of Los Angeles on the Kite-Shaped track of the Santa Fe Railway. It has electric light, gas and ice plants. A boulevard 100 feet wide and three miles in circumference encircles the city, bordered on each side by stately Peppers, Palms and other ornamental trees. It has a population of about 2700 with seven prosperous churches, and the best of school facilities, having erected a $36,000 high school building in the past year. There is plenty of water for irrigation and domestic use. It has three banks: the Citizens, First National and the Corona National.

Corona has about 5000 acres of as fine orange and lemon groves as can be found in Southern California which keep ten large modern packing houses busily engaged during the season.

Corona has one of the largest and best equipped pressed brick plants in California. The Pacific Clay Co. is the most extensive manufacturer of vitrified tile on the Pacific coast. There are four firms quarrying granite and marble from the hills around Corona, which will compare very favorably with the celebrated Barre granite.

Along the banks of the Santa Ana river are to be seen some of the finest and best equipped grain, alfalfa and dairy ranches in the country. We have a $15,000 Library building; there is now completed and under way $150,000 of street improvements. It is the third station on the Santa Fe R. R. in its freight tonnage.

Corona has an unexcelled climate—in many respects unequalled; a desirable place for the manufacturer, mechanic, farmer and an ideal spot for a home. The hills immediately adjacent to Corona abound in clays, plasters, pigments and a variety of minerals many of which are being developed. The largest cement beds known are here lying dormant for want of sufficient capital.

THE CORONA NATIONAL BANK OF CORONA, CALIFORNIA

Capital, $25,000.00

We are LIBERAL aiding many interests. We are conservative, capitalizing none. Bank opened for business Dec. 17, 1906.—NO SURPLUS; NO BUSINESS. Deposits Sept. 30, 1907, $100,583.75, secured without consolidation or purchase.

The proof of good service is constant growth.

SALT LAKE ROUTE

Which Is The Best Route East?

That's a matter of opinion and opinions vary. Of course WE think that the short line from Southern California to Salt Lake City, the popular is a good one, and if the patronage it is receiving is a good indication, our traveling friends also think so. Through a picturesque scenic country the line runs, and the dustless oiled roadbed contributes much to comfortable traveling. Two finely equipped trains are run: The Overland, with through sleeping cars to Chicago, St. Louis, and other points, and the palatial

Salt Lake Route

Los Angeles Limited

The latter a solid train through to Chicago via Salt Lake City, Union Pacific and Northwestern Line. Electric lights, steam heat and Pullman's finest equipment are features of this de luxe train. The a-la-carte dining car service of both trains is of peerless quality.

When you are considering an eastern trip, a call on any Salt Lake Route agent will surely result to your advantage.

Hemet, California

A growing city, beautifully situated on a branch of the Santa Fe Railway, 37 miles from Riverside, the county seat, and 100 miles from Los Angeles, having an elevation of 1600 feet, making an ideal climate, free from fog. A city with unlimited possibilities; abundant and fine water, electric lights and telephone systems, six church organizations, high and grammar schools, Public Library and free reading room; two banks, opera house, a live newspaper. Producing olives, oranges and lemons, deciduous fruits, alfalfa, dairy products, potatoes, grain and hay. It is the starting point by stage for Idyllwild and other resorts of the San Jacinto mountains.

OUR WONDERFUL CLIMATE.

Californians are proud of their climate and justly so. They may be pardoned for their persistence in urging its claims to superiority over that of any other part of the American continent. These climatic advantages mean much to people whose appreciation of Nature's beauties has not been blunted or destroyed by many years of struggles and cares incident to commercial life in the cities, or by farming 'midst the harsh rigors of Eastern winters and the enervating heat of the summer seasons. Could the people of less favored localities but know of the many charms of living in Southern California, this fair land would not provide room for all who would wish to make their homes there.

Sheltered within the great horse-shoe formed by the San Jacinto Mountains, above the fogs of the coast regions, and almost completely protected from the disagreeable desert winds, the Hemet Valley is ideally situated to combine all the advantages of Southern California climate.

The nights are invariably cool enough to insure complete rest, many people sleeping under blankets winter and summer.

Temperatures that produce prostration and death from heat in the East will be found only pleasantly warm here. There has never been a case of sun-stroke in Southern California, notwithstanding the thermometer registers over 100 degrees in the shade.

The seasons might well be divided into three periods of four months each—Spring, Summer and Fall— there being no winter, as known in Eastern localities.

The range of temperature in the fall and spring is usually from 35 to 55 degrees at night and 45 to 65 degrees during the day, while in summer it is from 45 to 65 degrees at night and 65 to 85 degrees in the daytime. These temperatures are exceeded occasionally from three to six days at a time.
